

Amy J. Boeckmann, MPA, BS, RRT

The NBRC welcomes Amy J. Boeckmann, MPA, BS, RRT to the Board of Trustees. After graduating from the University of Iowa with a Bachelor of Science, Health, Leisure, and Sport Studies in 2001, Amy then decided to enter the respiratory care profession and attended the respiratory therapy program at Des Moines Area Community College (DMACC), graduating in 2006. Her passion for educational excellence didn't stop and Ms. Boeckmann went on to earn a Master of Public Administration from Drake University in 2011.

In 2008, Ms. Boeckmann became the Director of Clinical Education for respiratory care at Hawkeye Community College (HCC) in Waterloo, IA, and then took on the role of Adjunct Instructor in 2013 for both HCC and for DMACC. Wanting to return to the Des Moines area, Ms. Boeckmann was afforded the opportunity to become the Respiratory Case Manager in 2014, and ultimately took on the role of Respiratory Supervisor at VA Central Iowa Health Care System.

Ms. Boeckmann has received two esteemed awards having been named a STEM Gem (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) by the STEM Council of Iowa and the Early Achievement Award from the Des Moines Area Community College Alumni Association.

Now the Director of Clinical Education at DMACC, Ms. Boeckmann also serves as president for the Iowa Society for Respiratory Care and as a board member of the American Lung Association. Other leadership roles have included Mentor for New Faculty, Assessment Co-Chair, and Foundation Board Member at Hawkeye Community College. Amy served as a consultant to the Therapist Multiple-Choice Examination Committee of the NBRC for five years before becoming a full board member this year.

The NBRC is privileged to have Amy J. Boeckmann, MPA, BS, RRT on the Board of Trustees and looks forward to Ms. Boeckmann's ongoing leadership and commitment to the respiratory care credentialing system during her time on the Board. Welcome, Amy!
